

The Trump Administration's First 100 Days: Perspectives from History and Political Science

JEFF 320

Thursday | April 24, 2025 | Noon - 1:00pm

Join Clark's History and Political Science Departments for a chance to discuss the major developments of the first 100 days of the Trump Administration.

Members of the History and Political Science Department faculties will participate in a facilitated discussion intended to help our community interpret the local, national, and international impacts and implications of the Administration's policies and decisions across a range of issues.

Co-sponsored by the History and Political Science Departments with the generous support of the Francis A. Harrington Public Affairs Fund
