

Staff Parental Leave of Absence Policy

Effective January 1, 2016, regular full and part-time staff eligible for Family Medical Leave (FMLA), defined as having worked at Clark University for at least one year and/or a minimum of 1,250 hours during the previous 12 months, will be eligible to apply for up to eight weeks of paid parental leave. Full-time staff will receive 100% of their pay and part-time staff will receive a prorated amount based on the standard hours of the position, e.g. part-time employee with a 25 hours per week schedule will be eligible to receive 62.5% pay. The spirit of the University's Parental Leave policy is to provide staff who are primary caregivers paid time off to bond with their newborn or newly adopted children. This policy depends on, and assumes, the good faith of its participants.

For purposes of the University's Staff Parental Leave policy, "primary caregiver" means a full-time staff member who is the lead caretaker of his or her newborn or newly adopted child at least 30 hours per week during the staff member's normal shift time, generally Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:00 am and 5:00 pm. If both parents work for the University, they shall only be entitled to a combined total of 8 weeks.

A staff member who is the primary caregiver for his or her newborn or newly adopted child is entitled to eight weeks paid parental leave beginning the date the child is born or adopted and runs concurrent with Family Medical Leave which provides up to 12 weeks of unpaid time off. Staff may supplement their pay during the additional 4 weeks unpaid FMLA by utilizing their available paid time off (sick, vacation, personal, or floating holiday time). Any staff member on parental leave will not be eligible to receive donated sick time. While on parental leave, staff will continue to be afforded the same benefits as were in effect immediately before the leave and paid time off (sick and vacation) will continue to accrue as usual.

Salary continuation for parental leave is available only for the period of time an employee would normally be at work (i.e., if you work an academic-year schedule, you would not be eligible for paid parental leave during the summer).

Employees who take parental leave will be reinstated to their regular position upon their return. Failure to return to work at the end of the parental leave (without an approved extension) shall be considered a resignation.

To be considered for a Parental Leave, the regular full or part-time staff member must complete a Request for Parental Leave of Absence for Staff, with supervisor acknowledgment, indicating the anticipated date of leave to the Director for the Office of Human Resources. This request should be received no later than four months prior to the anticipated leave date.
